Notice of Price Review effective June 1st, 2026

In accordance with our trading terms and in response to changing market conditions, we are writing to notify you that we will implement a variable price adjustment. Ongoing global fluctuations in raw material costs, increases in transport costs, and changes to trade tariffs continue to place pressure on our cost base.

This price adjustment will apply across our full range of products and will take effect on 1 June 2026.

A comprehensive price file will be provided on or before 1 May 2026. This will allow thirty (30) days for the updated pricing to be loaded prior to being applied.

Market conditions remain volatile and uncertain. Cabac will continue to provide updates as appropriate during this period and to support our valued customers.

Frequently Asked Questions

- I. The price adjustment will be variable and will apply across all Cabac products.
- II. For orders placed before 1 June 2026 that are for immediate shipment, we will honor current pricing.
