Polyplas International Pty Ltd price increase effective 1st June 2026.

Friday 24th April 2026

Dear Customer,

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your continued business and support.

At Polyplas International, we continue to enhance our business models, which have allowed us to absorb cost volatility and increases in the past. However, in the current climate, significant cost increases leave us no option but to issue a price increase over our product range.

Please note that Polyplas International Pty Ltd is implementing a general price increase averaging at 4.9% effective as of the 1st of June 2026.

The last date for placing orders at current price levels is 31st May 2026. All new orders submitted after this date will be invoiced at the updated price schedule, however pricing on backorders, projects & open orders will be honoured as quoted.

We appreciate your understanding and look forward to servicing you even better for the remainder of 2026 and into 2027, by providing quality value-added solutions to your business. Please contact your Account Manager to further discuss this increase and how it affects the product lines you purchase.

Thank you again for your continued support.

Yours sincerely,
